Big man with a bigger heart. I guess all I can say. Is thank you for the times we had joking and talking on the yard. And thank you for being a friend. Fly high boss. A1 from day 1. One love. “ Rest In Peace Jovan! Even though we never met, never had the opportunity to get to know each other, I know that you were, are, and forever will be an angel. Your disguise was no surprise, for your left atrium and right rib cage, your heart, gave you away, reflecting the heavens through the twinkle little star you left in Nayeli, your kids, and our families eyes! Thank you for making Nayeli and the kids so incredibly happy. Thank you for the hidden lessons, the precious moments, priceless gifts, endless smiles, everlasting memories, and that special touch within each task that was completed, defining you for you, and was completed because you said so! May your amazing love which you shared with the world, keep lighting our universe, making our home, a sexier place to live in, also known as, "The City of Lights," because you said so! May my father and mother's heart and sweet embrace always be with you, loving you and guiding you towards your new heavenhood home, as you always did for all your loved ones and friends. May your love reign and your legacy live to continue making the world a much better place for Jovan Michael García Ortiz was here! My sincerest condolences to Nayeli and the whole family. “ Vonnie... All the weekends I stayed the night at y'all house... When y'all were next door... All the growing up together on oakview. The puerto rican rice Delores made for my household and you came over so you could have some cause she only made some for us... Writing you while you were locked up to let you know everyone was good and what was going on... All the laughs we had... Especially when big daisy would scream at the scary movies we would watch... Some weren't even scary lol especially the jurassic park movie... She hated it. All the swimming we did... playing tag... from when we were what 4 or 5 years old all the way til now... I will remember em all... I will never forget you vonnie... I will keep you in my heart always... We love you... To the family... Words can never heal the pain... I love you all and I am always here... I hope it is true that they say you get to go on with all those that passed before you... Til that day comes... We will miss you
