“ Oh, the shenanigans we caused in our younger days!! We met thanks to my brother, and it was a wild ride while it lasted. A larger than life personality, sharp wit, wicked laugh, and always, ALWAYS, looking for that next adventure, that next thrill, never satisfied with sitting idle - life was meant to be lived to the fullest, and that is just what you did. Over the years we lost touch, but I imagined you finally found the life you dreamed of and made new adventures in that life. Rest in Heaven.

You were such a dear friend . We wood sometimes talk for hours at a time . I feel so bad I got busy these past couple of months and didn't get a chance to call . You always bragged about your son and told me story after story about him . We talked about everything. This breaks my heart to know you're gone now . We spent hours talking about the Bible and Jesus as well . You always told me my calling was to be a preacher . I know you're with Jesus now . Rest in peace my dear friend Of almost 40 years . I guess our hanging this summer will have to go on hold till I see you in heaven . I will always miss you .

“ I miss your sarcastic smile and your wicked sense of humor. I miss comparing stories of wildlife antics in the yard. I miss the fun of driving in construction traffic on 294. I'm grateful I got to know you and call you friend. I will always see you in Braeden, he is a very fine young man. You did good, I promise. - Karen

We worked together for many years and Allison was a good and loyal friend. She was smart, quick-witted, and had a great laugh. She was so proud of you, Braeden. My heart is breaking for you. Just know that heaven has welcomed its toughest angel yet...
