“ Angel was his name not only because he made sure his children were comfortable and secure. But he had a generous heart. He shared intimate memories with his grandchildren who he loved all equally. We have the honor to have had him in our lives as a friend, brother, husband, father and grandfather.

*The cherished dance poem (rhyming about grandpa
His voice is light
His emotions are bright
His song is in tune
His hair is in sight. just like the moon
But when he danced
The world took a chance
To let his heart be free to dance*
