“ Tony was such a kind and giving man. He was a beautiful wood carver and he never failed to help newbies to the art. He would loan them tools, teach them carving techniques and help them whenever they needed help. When Tony left the park, the Wednesday carving group just disappeared which was too bad. He and Therese were always volunteering to help with all kinds of activities. They made the best Italian spaghetti dinners for a hungry group of retirees. He will be missed. Don and I always appreciated his friendship.
