“ Carolyne was one of the most genuine, fiercely independent and energetic women I've known. She had boundless love for her family and shared many wonderful stories about the times they had together. Of course, the Sox captured her imagination. She would jump from hooting with delight to spitting in absolute frustration in a heartbeat depending on a given play – or the outcome of a game and season. I often wondered what it would be like to have her in the dugout at a Sox game and whether fans would be able to focus on what was happening on the field with such excitement going on in the dugout! She was a wonderful woman, and I'm glad to have had the opportunity to get to know her. My condolences to the entire family.
