

Dennis Clark Roebuck

February 15, 1954 - March 25, 2019

Dennis Clark Roebuck, 65, of Bolingbrook passed away on March 25, 2019. He was born the son of Warren Clark and Maxine Roebuck February 15, 1954 in Battle Creek, Michigan.

Dennis graduated from Lakeview High School in Battle Creek in 1972. He was a proud alumnus of Michigan State University class of 1976 with his degree in political science. Dennis was known for his love of Hollywood and enjoyed movies, music, and all things entertainment. Dennis was a gentle soul who loved all animals. From the neighborhood cats to local wildlife, taking care of them brought him joy.

Dennis is survived by his partner of 33 years Edward Oros; sister Karen Roebuck; niece Brittney Kimball; and nephew Travis Kimball.

Dennis was preceded in death by his parents Warren and Maxine, and his aunts and uncles.

Funeral services will be private. Contributions may be made to the American Diabetes Association in Dennis' memory.

“ Dennis was my "wall mate" at MSU, and he was always a joy to be around. He did me the great honor of serving as the best man at my wedding. We connected again in the Chicago area a couple of years later, and my wife and I enjoyed getting together with him - plus he dog-sat our toy poodle for more than one weekend. I echo all the other personal comments about Dennis here; he was a gentleman and a scholar.

Rest in peace good friend!

“ Edward,
I have many fond memories of Dennis as I have known him and his parents since kindergarten. Since I moved out of the area, I have missed running into you two at Jewel. It was always like a home coming to see a friendly face. My thoughts and prayers are with you.

“ Years ago when Ed had surgery... Dennis and I consoled each other. He kept me updated on everything. We were nervous wrecks, but didn't want the other to know. I love him and will miss my precious beautiful friend.
