“ I never met Diane, but have felt her loving kindness in my life. My granddaughter Ellie Nan Taylor was born on Diane's birthday and is named after her daughter Nancy. Having raised Nan, would have been enough to let me know the kind of person Diane was. One who taught her daughter to Respect her Elders, who taught her the value of hard work, of giving your time and energy to serving others and making the world a better place. Diane did more for us than share her Nan. When Ellie was born she started sending little things to my grandchildren. It warmed my heart. It seemed like at the most challenging times of their little lives there would be a little beanie baby for them or an Easter package. These became some of their most valued treasures. She will be greatly missed here.

“ It has been an honor and privilege to be part of Diane's life the past 15 years. I truly cared about her more than for her. Diane was always a highpoint in my day when I would see her name in my schedule and we spent half our visit catching up. I can say without any reservation she loved all her children and husband beyond measure. She will be missed by me as well as the staff of FVFP more than you can imagine. It brings me peace to know we had time to talk and pray in the final days, even in her illness we were both laughing as much as we were crying. She told me she had a "full" life and I said that was as much of an understatement as there was. I wish I could be with you all to celebrate her life next weekend but will be out of town, I will be praying for all of you as we all know she is as happy as can be with Our Heavenly Father. “ Aunt Diane was the "Crazy Aunt That They Warn You About"! I always had a great time when I was around her. She remembered my birthday year after year with a card in the mail. When I was unable to go to her recent 75th birthday party, my cousins brought her and Uncle Joe to Chili's in Oswego to meet up with me and Jackie the night before. It was so nice to just sit and visit for a few hours. Until we meet again, Love you Aunt Di !
