“ To Maria, Eric, Michael and Veronica, our hearts broke when we heard of Jesse's passing. Remembering our time at Konen and him always bursting with pride whenever his family came by. He could light up a dreary day with his smile and positive out look. My son was serving in the Middle East and Jesse was so very supportive, being The Marine, he had our backs. We could always count on good eats at any family /friend get together. I recently saw him getting gas at Woodmans, and telling of his next grandchild coming! Please find comfort in knowing his short time on this earth will be forever in the hearts of his family and all who have had the blessing of knowing him.

“ I just wanted to share how truly sorry I am for your loss and send my heartfelt condolences to the family. I had the privilege of knowing Jesse for a number of years as my children both attended and currently attend St Peter School. I also knew him from his insurance days with Konen as we were in the same line of business. He has a greater calling now and as a Marine, he will be able to forever stand watch over his loved ones.

“ To Jesse's children and extended family: I first met Jesse at West High when he joined the very first soccer team, playing with my son, Tom Reid. What a scrappy, fine player he was, an example of what was to come. Just a few years later, he reappeared all polished and professional after serving in the Marines and with a U.S. Congressman. In more recent years, I watched him take up community causes and then serve in an elected position, gently nudging important projects and improvements to completion. Jesse was a born leader, an emerging visionary, with the dedication and passion that is so sorely missing in our society today. I am deeply saddened by his loss but feel confident that his legacy, the "legend of Jesse," will continue in your lives and in the lives of all with whom he came into contact. I wish I could ease your sorrow and pain. Just know this: your father was a remarkable child of God and a very special individual. I was blessed to know and work with him, and send you my love.
