“ There is no simple description of John. He was SO MANY things. And all of them were special. When my brother in law passed, John responded with this condolence on my husband's F/B page. It explains his thoughts on this thing called 'death'. I'm quoting from his post at that time.

"(John Kramer)-- So sorry for you, your family, and all his many friends, Ken. The sad truth is that we all must exit at some point. The only question is what do we leave behind? Never having met Warren, but reading all the comments, it appears he was a good man, a stand-up guy, who will be well remembered. In the end, I suppose, that's all we can really hope for - to be well remembered, because those who are fortunate enough to receive that greatest of compliments are never really gone."

and that holds so very true for John too.....He was a special man and will always be Well Remembered. And we will miss him every day.*
