“ I met Mike at my high school graduation party. A mutual friend had brought him, and another friend, as my 'gift'. Mike turned out to be the best gift that I ever recieved. Being friends with Mike changed my life. He very quickly became my closest friend. He was 'my person' in the mid 90s. My happiest and most contented times were with him. Pure peace. Our birthdays were only a few days apart, and for one birthday I wrote out the lyrics to Queen's You're My Best Friend and gave it to him framed. Through 46 years and 2 husbands, he is the only person who ever called me 'Shell'. He is probably the best friend that I will ever have. The years led us in different directions, and I only found out that he had passed about a month ago. I am devastated. Time goes on, but the feelings remain. Ironically I had reached out to him a couple of years back, when I was knocking on heaven's door. And what a blessing, we were still just Mike and Michelle. Forever friends. And what I wouldn't give to talk to him one more time. I love you Mike. See you inside of heaven's door.

“ Going to do this the way Weiland would want it. Starting off... fashionably late to the party. What I'll remember from front to back. Throwing parties five seconds after your Dad left the house. The 69 room we filled with mailboxes. "The spot" on Van Emmon. Betting on every single NFL game only to win or lose $10. The pattened "Mike Weiland Tombstone Pizza Move". (I'm still not checking the pizza with you) Topless Fiero rides with the bazooka tubes blasting. Italian American Club so many times. That's what she said. McCabes and "Gimme that tape!", Putting a pineapple on the casino blackjack table. Googlebox! And a bunch of other things that are likely not appropriate to leave here. I know you would rather we have a good laugh remembering you, and that's precisely what I'm going to do. Love ya, man.

“ As complicated as we make our lives we all enjoy the simple things that make us happy. Laughter, Love, Good Friends, Family, and of course beer! Laughter - One thing Mike was notorious for was his one liners that would get the room to smile. "That's what she said". If the jokes weren't crude or sexual they weren't funny. I guess that is why we got along so well. Love - The Fiero GT was one of Mike's first loves beside women, great ta ta's, and the Radiers. Mike was always one to get things off his chest whether you liked what he had to say or not. If he loved you or hated you he would let you know. I always respected him for that. Good Friends - Rob, Jack, Ryan, Joey, Dave, Bruce (God rest his soul!) and many more. Thank you to his good friends that have been part of his life. The memories that all of us hold will be cherished. Peace be with you my friend. Family - My thoughts and prayers go out to you. May the road rise up to meet you. May the wind be always at your back. May the sunshine warm upon your face; the rain fall soft upon your fields and until we meet again may god hold you in the palm of his hand... Brian Kelley “ " lives are like Rivers eventually they go where they must not where we want them to" Some rivers are calm, and slowly flowing along til they reach their final destination, of a vast and vibrant sea. Other rivers are treacherous ,fast flowing ,full of rapids, and obstacles, along the way. And forceful in the pursuit of their destinations. And yet others start off very strong, and forceful, full of purpose ,and direction. Unstopably flowing. To then, at the last leg of thier journey, become a gentle stream upon arriving at their final home. How all these Rivers reach their ends are very different and unique in their Journey. However they all end up in the same place eventually, they all have purpose, and are beautiful in many different ways. So be grateful and appreciate all the variations and which these bodies of water flow to the abyss. And remember them for what they are ,were ,and will be. Godspeed my friend , and peace be with you And on a final note I know I will one day see you again. So when that day comes I fully expect the smile a warm welcome and a big party. With all the prettiest angels in attendance of course. And if I don't have that waiting .....well fully expect to lock horns with me. And we will be fighting up and down the halls of Heaven, just like we did in high school, on our first day of sophomore year. Only then be taken to Frank babbage's office to explain our blood, bruises ,and dented lockers. And while we were being asked these questions (we both looked at each other with a smile and replied " we were just joking around" it was not serious ) And then left the office with a slap on the wrist, and a friendship that would last. So I'm just going to tell you now....if I have to lie to st. Peter on my first day in heaven I'm going to be pretty pissed. Love you brother, rest in peace Your friend Robert Young.

“ I was friends with Mike since high-school We had a lot of good times together. Mike could make you laugh and always found a way to make something sound like the best idea in the world even if it wasn't. He also made any event seem like the best ever. Even though as we got older we didn't see each other much he will be tremendously missed and I will always be grateful that I knew him. Mike thank you for all the great memories
