“ Nick Bean ws a great friend and sooo funny. Adam and I enjoyed the time we had with Nick and his friends and family. You all know that Adam and I are here for you! A lot of us are probably going through our shoulda, coulda, woulda's. However, Adam and I feel blessed that we GOT TO have the grace of having a friend like that in our lives. Our hearts still go out to Nicks whole family. We miss you dearly "Big Man"!

“ I had the opportunity to have met Nick on so many occasions when his dad, Pete, would bring Nick and his brother to church each Sunday. Both of the boys were always respectable and honorable in all their ways. So to his dad Pete, wife, brother and all of his loved ones, continue to relish in the memories that will forever live with us. He made each of us remember that life can be so enjoyable when we decide that like him, we can make this world a better place for all if we would just remember in God, we are all brothers and sisters in Christ.. Just remember-God Is.

“ It saddens me that I have to write this because you should still be with us. I will always cherish the laughs and the silly acting we did in English class to live it up a little. I remember when I would have my bad days and you would say something caring 1st then turn right around and crack a joke. "My Nick" is what I called you and I will continue calling you that until I see you again. Though my heart and soul wants you here for your family and friends; your home now so rest with no worries because everyone who loves you will hold it down in your honor!!!

Love you friend!!

“Big Nick,” you definitely will be missed beyond words; your impressive stature (6' 5"?) and beautiful engaging smile was a magnet to all who knew and loved you. My children loved you & always spoke so highly of you and were proud to have you as their friend. They always said that "Big Nick" had their back at Dirty Nellies when they would work into the wee hours of the morning (which certainly made me feel so much better as a parent - I thank you for your constant kindness and sense of "duty"). Our hearts go out to your family who have the unbearable task of continuing on without you. May they find the strength and courage to do so from all the wonderful memories they have of you and all the ones that your many many friends will impart to your family. May your family feel comfort in the fact knowing that your memory will well live on in so many hearts that you've touched. Please continue to "watch" over all of us that love and care for you.

“ Nicholas was a really funny and friendly man....such a gentle person. So much like his mother Cynthia, it was so uplifting to see them together with those big smiles.. there was so much love beaming from the both of them! It was such a beautifully wonderful sight to see! Nicholas you will be missed beyond words.
