“ Bob was a student of mine when I was a instrument instructor at Waubensee college. Bob wanted to get his instrument rating so he enrolled in my class. After he graduated he did in fact pass the written examination and go on to pass the flight test. After graduation he asked me if I would like to come work at the Sears store on Lake street in security just for the holidays(Thanksgiving to Christmas) for a little extra cash. Little did I know that I would continue to work for the next 14 years at the lake street store and then out to Fox Valley.
I always considered Bob a dear friend and along with his family I know that he and his friendly smile will be missed.
I am unable to attend any service for Bob but I will keep him and his family in my prayers.
Happy landings BOB

“ I remember Uncle Bob from his days at Sears in Saginaw. Shortly after he moved to Chicago, I started working for Sears. When he came back to Saginaw, we would discuss how Sears had changed their instore marketing and how it would have a negative impact on Sears. How right he was. Occasionally, I drive past your old house and think of the visits there. I believe my Dad made him a knife to carry during his time of service in World War II. His warm smile and sense of humor will be missed.
