“ Never will I forget what a fun loving godmother and all around amazing person in my life. I'm glad I was able to visit April 2014 while in town. Out of touch for too many years, but I have never forgotten about you. Two of the greatest godparents I could have- 'Aunt' Randi & 'Uncle' Bill. I will miss you!

“ I was always impressed with Randi's attention to details. More importantly she followed up on them, especially when it came to family matters. Not sure if there is anybody in the family that can measure up to the job.

“ I have known Rolanda "Randy" for several years and have enjoyed morning coffee with her at McDonald's weekly. Randy has always been upbeat and eagerly participated in all conversations willingly. She and her husband, Bill, were more than attentive to my husband, Don, who is disabled, and in Nov of 2014, when we visited the Vietnam Wall, (I was a volunteer working there) and I was pushing Don around in a transport chair with difficulty. Randy and Bill saw me struggling, brought over a track motorized chair (I don't know the correct name of the chair) and Don was helped into the chair and he tooted around all over the grounds as though he was on a racetrack. We truly appreciated that act of kindness. On Dec 16th, I had a small coffee gathering for some of the ladies from McDonald and Randy attended and I'm so thankful she could be there. It never entered my mind that would be her last visit. Randy left this world way too soon, was too young, but, God had other plans for her. Randy will be missed and there will be a vacant seat at McDonald's where she always sat. We're truly saddened. My sympathies go out to Bill, their children, grandchildren and all the relatives.
From her friends,
Phyllis and Don Wells

“ I have many fond memories of my Aunt Randi. She never missed an opportunity to pass on her knowledge or family recipes. As a little girl (and still) I have always loved cats and like any little girl, I had to have one. I don't remember the day or the occasion, but I remember she stopped by mine and my dad's apartment with a present. In my little arms I held fluffy white (yes, it was stuffed) cat! It even made purring noises. I had named her Princess :) I remember my Aunt Randi 's face beaming, "See? I got you your first cat." It was a special gift and it's funny that I remember that almost 20 years later. Now, I need to get cracking on some of those recipes that she passed to me on my wedding day :) I'm sorry I didn't get a last goodbye and you will always be in my heart. I look forward to seeing your daffodils bloom this spring that you planted in my yard. Thank you for being my aunt. I love you.

“ She was a great sister with a loving, giving heart and a gentle soul. She was always there for me when I needed to talk or vent. My heart has another piece missing but I will always have my fond memories. Rest in peace, dear sister. I love you.

“ Loving sister. She always said I was her "birthday present" 6 years apart but I came just 9 days before her's. Will miss your sense of humor, wit and caring. Love you!

I knew Randi long before I started dating Brandon. She was a wonderful woman and welcomed me with open arms every time. I will never forget the things she told me, or the many tidbits I learned from her. I will never forget how caring and awesome she was to me, and how much Brandon loved her. My love goes out to her memory, and all of the family.
