“ This has been one of the toughest couple weeks in my life. I can't believe my Charlie is gone. Being with his family this weekend made me felt like I was hugging a little piece him. I could think of a hundred different stories together and none of them are bad. We cried a little and laughed. I'll never forget you and I'll see you again someday brother.

“ I just now found out about my FRIEND. 🥺 I was fortunate enough to be roommates with Rosalio at the VA at Lovell In North Chicago this past year. I used to call him the Mexican Lion because of his long hair he was growing out and the fact that he was a shy but warm person. Like a lion you would only see him If he wanted you too see him. He was humble, quite and warm to all. I remember every morning he would head out for his morning walk and usually capture pictures of beautiful sunrises. After hearing of his passing last night it's no coincidence there was a sunrise that stopped me in my tracks. As if he was saying hello. I will miss you very much my brother.
