“ Some of my earliest childhood memories are of my Aunt Rosemary, and why not? She was so full of life she was impossible to ignore. Her seemingly limitless energy was unlike anything I have seen but in a very few people.

She would literally "swirl" into a room, something like the fictitious Auntie Mame - always with a smile and a laugh and a kind word. As in everyone's life, I'm sure she had her challenges and heartbreaks, but I never saw them. She so loved her ever expanding family and I'm sure they were her brightest light in times of darkness. She was a special lady, loved and to be missed by many. In my mind, I will always remember her as the picture of joy, and a life well remembered is never really gone.
