“ I will always hold you and my memories of you deep in my heart. You did more than a thank you could ever be enough. Now your biggest fan is in heaven with you and I know you have her right next to you. Both of you were too good for this earth and are now in the presence of our father. Please continue to keep my baby under your wing and give her the biggest kiss & hug from me. I love you both and neither of you have to ever worry again. The angels were sent precious cargo, and I know they are more than impressed by your greatness.
