“ Troy was the most social person I ever met. He never forgot a name, and always gave you a high five or a fist bump in the hallway. Sad to hear of his passing.

“ I first met Troy when he attended O'Donnell Elementary School. He was a classmate of my son and daughters. I had the privilege of being his coach on the Cub Scout softball team. It was obvious that Troy had some unique physical challenges. yet it was also unique that Troy always had a smile, seemed to have so much fun, tried his very best and spent much of his time encouraging others. It was easy to see that Troy loved being on that team and his teammates loved him too. Yes Troy impacted each of them. As I fast forward, Troy had many obstacles to overcome. Aside from his lack of full mobility, he lost his mother at an early age. He lived with his Dad, Gary, and they became best friends taking care of each other. Troy did not have a "normal" life as some would describe it.

I have read the many tributes that others have written on Troy's Obituary page. I never realized just how many people Troy impacted in such a positive way during his life. Please take the time to read them as they will provide wonderful insights into his life. As I write this I realize that I will fall short in expressing my thoughts about Troy but here are a few:

Always a smile - Always encouraging others

Never complaining - Always showing appreciation

An avid Tomcat fan - An unbelievable memory

Proud to be part of the Knights of Columbus

Always spoke well of others - Always cared for others more than himself - once you met Troy, he was your friend and he would not forget you and you would not forget him.

Yes those are a few of the traits that Troy possessed and recognized by many others.

On a more personal basis, I'll always treasure the time we had together while going to visit his Dad in Dixon II. It was awesome to see the love, care, concern and interaction between a father and son.

We enjoyed going to "good" movies together and the out to eat afterwards. It was great going to the Fordham House and seeing the friendship and care he received from all especially Robin.

We often talked about his work at A.I.D., his field trips and also his vacations with Aunt Dory and Uncle Buzz who he loved very much.

Most importantly. Troy was a man who possessed a strong Christian Faith. He so much appreciated those who took him to church. I was excited when he wanted to attend a Bible Study at our home. He was always eager to share and pray for others and quickly made friends within our group. Troy's Faith was genuine and became an important part of his life.

*Troy, your life may be looked upon as very limited by some. It is sad for me and many of us to lose you now. But the Good News is now you can Run Run Run and perhaps even drive your own car :) ..who knows the joy that is now before you in Heaven, Yes Troy, you lived your life caring for others more than yourself. You have impacted so many people in such a positive way. I want to THANK YOU for the profound impact you have had on my life. Not a Good-bye but rather till we meet again. Your friend and Brother In Christ

“ I have much to say about Troy, and so many years of great memories- although nobody could truly remember those years through the crystal clear lens he uniquely possessed. Nothing made my cousin happier than the simple presence of the people he cared about, and those people were seemingly countless. One couldn't help but feel that even the simplest gesture- such as a brief phone call- would have him riding a wave of euphoria for months to come. Gregarious even in the face of adversity, we could all stand to learn something from his daily outlook, the resiliency he brought to his life and the genuine concern he expressed for those around him.

You can find me tuning in to reruns of Price is Right tonight, cracking a cold beer and raising it in your memory, Troy.

May you rest in well-deserved peace cousin, and thank you for all of the memories. You were one of a kind, and you'll be truly missed.

“ Troy, you gave it your all. You were fearless. You ran on the cross country team, you competed. You always were a helper, a giver. You volunteered at East High. You participated at church. You were not afraid of trying. You wanted to be a part of life. I will always remember you.

“ Troy
The always friendly, upbeat, happy guy. Excited to see you whenever you met him. One never knew the difficulty and trials he persevered through, the loss of his mother and his father. He was always a lighted bright candle and now a heavenly one as well.

“ I have known Troy since he was in out 2nd grade CCD Class. My late wife, Patricia and I developed a real affection for Troy as we prepared home for First Penance and First Holy Communion. Troy had a simple, uncomplicated Faith in Jesus during all the subsequent years I spent with him at OLGC and as Brother Sir Knights in the Knights of Columbus. Troy witnessed to me the Scripture where Jesus said we all need to have the Faith of a “child” as we go through life.

Rest well, Sir Troy.
