“ It was less than three weeks ago that I looked out my back window and noticed Wally behind his house with about a 30 foot pole I couldn't figure out what he was doing and I was worried that he could be getting himself in trouble so I walked over and there he was washing his windows the upper windows on his unit with the pole and a squeegee and he was in his element he was very happy you're not in any trouble whatsoever I said and he just smiled and asked if I wanted him to do mine
