“ Jean and I send our heartfelt condolences on your loss. I felt privileged to have had the opportunity to work with Wayne for the seven years we were in DeKalb. I considered Wayne more as a friend than as a co-worker. We had a lot of long hours at "the shop" but we also had a lot of laughs as well. He was one of the hardest working individuals I had the pleasure to work with and he gave his all to the DeKalb operation. More importantly he did it with a great deal of personal integrity. We used to share a laugh occasional when we reminded each other that with our similar height we could at least "see eye to eye".

I will cherish the memories and friendship I had with Wayne. You and your family will remain in our thoughts and prayers.

“ I hadn't known Wayne until last year when we worked on his house. He was the nicest most upbeat guy I can think of. I felt foolish for complaining of my aches and pains when he was so ill all along and never mentioned it. He was special.

“ I am going to miss Wayne so much. His infectious laugh made everyone laugh with him. His caring for everyone showed in everything he did....fixing things for people, creating things in his "workshop" for friends and family, his cookies and little special gifts he would make for when his "Justus Girls" went on their trips.....every caring thing he did for others. There will never be another like you, Wayne.

“ We had so many great times in the neighborhood, times we'll always cherish and laugh about. Like sitting in our driveway and playing going on a trip. And singing "Big Bad John" you singing lead, these were the good times. We would do anything to do it over again, rest in peace our good friend.
